Facts:

On November 6, 2004, The X Prize Foundation awarded the $10 million ANSARI X PRIZE to SpaceShipOne and Mojave Aerospace. Under the direction of Burt Ratan, the team reached for the stars, traveling nearly 370,000 feet to make history. He and his enterprising team of aerospace professionals took on the challenge posed by The X Prize Foundation eight years before... to fly a privately financed, manned spaceship beyond the threshold of space. They succeeded.

Over the years, AMD has supported The X Prize Foundation as it grew from a small relatively unknown entity to a household name by providing sound accounting advice and instilling best practices in their endeavors.
